

COUNTY OF LOS ANGELES
PROBATION COMMISSION

Fitzgerald Jones

Probation Commissioner Fitzgerald Jones was nominated by Supervisor Don Knabe. His service began October 2008. As an August 2008 retiree from the Long Beach Unified School District, his last assignment was Director of the district's School for Adults and Reid Continuation High School. Fitz's working educational experiences spans 42 years in the kindergarten through 12th grade and adult school programs. Instructional levels were elementary and high school, counseling experiences were elementary, junior high, senior high school and adult schools, and administrative responsibilities were middle school, high school, and adult school.

Commissioner Jones currently has a son that attends Long Beach City College as a freshman majoring in Fire Science. His wife is a 2011 retiree from the Long Beach Unified School District with 39 years of instructional expertise in elementary education.

Fitzgerald has hobby interests in photography, fresh water fishing, cycling, golfing, and listening to jazz. Fitz is currently Chairman of the Antioch Church of Long Beach Deacon Ministry and was the recipient of the Long Beach NAACP Community Service Award in 2005.
